

ANTONIO LIZANA

From Andalusia to New York and beyond, Antonio Lizana is one of the most celebrated representatives of Flamenco Jazz today. As a jazz saxophonist, flamenco singer and composer, Lizana's live shows are described as a "breathtaking journey from flamenco roots to contemporary jazz", spun together with his soulful lyrics carrying messages of optimism and sincerity to his audiences. Antonio Lizana has performed in more than 30 countries with his band, playing in jazz festivals such as Jazz sous les pommiers, Madrid, Barcelona, Baku, Casablanca, Marseille 5 Continents, Trondheim... And Flamenco Festivals such as : New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Flamenco Biennale (Holland), Mont de Marsan...

Born and raised in San Fernando, a province of Cádiz and one of the cradles of flamenco singing, his collaborations with countless local artists have informed his technique and style, and allowed him to go on to share the authentic flamenco spirit with the world. He has collaborated with artists such as Arturo O'Farrill and Alejandro Sanz on works that received Grammy awards. Other of his collaborations include Snarky Puppy, Marcus Miller, Chano Domínguez, Alfredo Rodríguez, Louis Winsberg, Ari Hoenig, Jorge Drexler, Erik Truffaz, Jorge Pardo, Shai Maestro, José Mercé, Josemi Carmona, Carmen Linares and Pepe Habichuela.
